

ROBERT BOWIE JOHNSON, JR.

Author of Genesis Characters and Events in Ancient Greek Art

Robert Bowie Johnson Jr. is a writer whose work has appeared in American Thinker, The New York Times, Playboy, The Progressive and Washington Monthly. An airborne ranger graduate of West Point, Johnson notes the historical irony that his Alma Mater's symbolic guardian is Athena, the central figure of his latest work, Enchantress Athena. He lives in Maryland with his wife and Smudge the cat.

The hallmark of a healthy humanity is a genuine connection to the truth of our historical identity. But how do we find our way to the origins of the human race thousands of years ago? We go back two and a half millennia to Greek artists who were closer to it, and whose marble sculptures and vase paintings bear a silent witness to the key characters and events described in the early chapters of the Book of Genesis, validating their reality.

Title: Genesis Characters and Events in Ancient Greek Art

Author: Robert Bowie Johnson, Jr.

Publisher: Solving Light Books

Publication Date: Fall 2016

ISBN-13: 978-0-9705438-0-6

Page Count & Format: 98 pages, full-color (Paperback, E-book)

Genre: Spiritual Nonfiction

Retail Price: $29 (Paperback)/$13 (E-book)

CONTACT

Robert Johnson
rbowiej@comcast.net
solvinglight.com
genesisingreekart.com
Instagram Facebook

Additional titles:

Enchantress Athena: Her Ancient Spell on Modern Christendom

The Parthenon Code: Mankind's History in Marble, translated into French and Greek.

A Truer God: The Supreme Spirit of Light and Love in the Hebrew and Greek Scriptures.

Maryland and the Confederacy.

Broadneck Hundred: Life and Times between the Severn and the Magothy.

100,000 Plus Power Phrases: A Study of Ideas and a Stimulant to Deep and Original Thinking.